HASH TRASH

It is a truth universally acknowledged that the hash trash never lies. What you are about to read is happening now, or will happen at some time in the future. Or nearly, anyway.

Run 2135 6th May 2019 Wheelbarrow's Abode Geebung

A dark night with scarcely a sliver of a new moon set the scene for our mysterious hash ramble through the suburbs of Geebung. Those of you who are Game of Thrones fans will appreciate the darkness of the night and the struggle to find the run and the bucket. Who knew Geebung had so many hills! Wheelbarrow knew that many of our not so young hashers were optically challenged so he made sure the arrows were huge for at least the first couple of kilometres. After that enticement it was each man, woman and Dog for themselves. We even stopped at some former, wiser departed hasher's house for a song. We left before the police came, so no one was arrested for disturbing the peace.

Our runner's are down to about three now but there was a goodly amount of walkers. Simpleton remarked on the fact that the checks were all 3 ways, this seems a reasonable way to keep the 3 runners honest, doesn't it! We welcomed back Yogi who apparently has been on maternity leave for the last five years or so. Fidel has finally returned after his altercation with the bitumen. Chunda and To & From also turned up having heard that Wheelbarrow puts on a good feast. Drinks were consumed around an inviting fire pit. We are such a delightful group, no one can stay away too long. These days we are thankful that we can get out on a Monday night to have a laugh and a drink with our mates.

No volunteers for Hash Flash, so all our secrets will remain social media free for a little while. Our esteemed song mistress Flower is very much missed. Night Owl is trying hard. She has finally realised that the song sheet has only the first line from our favourite songs and most of us don't know the rest without strict guidance or a song book. Mind you then people would have to bring out their reading glasses, oh the vanity!

The back story to Wheelbarrow's name -- apparently on his first hash night he was asked to spell his surname, hash cash managed Bob OK but got stuck on his surname, the story goes " : Oh fk it, your name is wheelbarrow!"
