HASH TRASH

It is a truth universally acknowledged that the hash trash never lies. What you are about to read either has happened, is happening now, or will happen at some time in the future. Or nearly, anyway.

As the bravest of BNH3 made their way to Arthur Davis Park at Sandgate in the midst of an unexpected downpour, they were disappointed to see that the shed they had assumed would provide shelter must have sprung a leak. This was because Dog was inside guarding the shed sporting a very fetching umbrella decorated with frogs.

Once we realised there were in fact no leaks, it was clear his aim was to co-ordinate his attractive and unique umbrella with his equally stylish jacket - or possibly it was just yet another transitory dementia episode. His fellow sufferers in BNH3 decided not to draw it to his attention and instead heaped praise on his rather becoming amphibian accessory and overall ensemble.

Ten Fingers increased his popularity by bringing along a box of delectables from a local bakery. Admittedly they were originally destined for the needy and homeless, but who could be more needy than BNH3?

Abbo gave the run report and after complimenting the numerous arrows and regroups provided by the hare, continued to suck up to the GM by giving it 8 out of 10. Flower gave the walk report and commented that despite the "prevailing meteorological weather system and discernible precipitation", she gave it 9 out of 9. This was deemed to be far too many syllables for hash, not to mention further increasing the suck up level to unacceptable heights.

Tales were re-hashed of the memorable 40th birthday weekend and the interesting and cosmopolitan group of hashers who had gathered to celebrate. In keeping with that theme, the food from the camping weekend was re-hashed as well. Heartstarter did a wonderful job of defrosting and re-cooking, and had added dessert which was an excellent accompaniment to Ten Fingers' bakery box of nosh for the needy. Our much revered GM is still promising to provide trash from the birthday weekend, and while none of us would ever refer to him as a tardy procrastinator utilising a multitude of trash delay tactics, his report is a long time coming and we look forward to it with bated breath.

Awards/Down Downs

Hash Award	Hasher	For
Hare	Fig Jam (GM)	Setting a run full of discernible precipitation.
Big Prick	Vampire	Making a disparaging comment about the GM not knowing the correct time (in direct contradiction of the commandments - aka sh*tty pieces of cardboard – that the GM is always right).
Small Prick	Tail	For some obscure reason, but whatever it was she seemed pretty happy about receiving her award.
Dummy	Ten Fingers	Not knowing which car was the booze bus after he went off trying to remotely open every car in the car park.
Brush	MIA Floater
Arse Saver	MIA
Grub Shirt	MIA with Flasher

Other Charges

Chargee/s	For
On Heat	Throwing some socks at Dog's exposed tender loins. If he hadn't been so busy matching his umbrella with his outfit he might have been able to protect himself.
Ten Fingers	Throwing out the challenge to our baker extraordinaire (Cheesy) by bringing a box of cakes. Cheesy didn't seem concerned that there was any competition whatsoever.

Tail	EOFY challenges and managing all the checks and balances that come with the responsibility of the hash cash – not to mention somehow scheduling in her expenses for her next holiday.
Ned, Tail, Vampire, Dog, Boxy, You're Screwed, On Heat	Umbrellas on the run (but none were as nice as Dog's).
Boxy & Abbo	RAs past and present – not stopping the rain
Dog	Complaining or whinging about something (again in direct contradiction of the abovementioned cardboard which clearly states there will be no whinging).
Fidel	Charged by Ten Fingers for having a Merc. GM asked Ten if he'd ever bothered to look in the GM's garage. Not surprisingly this became a reverse charge.

NEXT WEEK'S RUN (No. 2145) 08.07.2019: Fidel, Lindsay Road Sportsground, Cnr Clark and Lindsay Rd, Morayfield (Fidel warns it is a very rural area with no lights or other signs of human habitation).
