

SAUSAGED AT SCRUBBER'S RUN 2160

Information gleaned from confidential & trusted journalistic sources

Once again lured to Chef Scrubber's Run with promises of orgasmic, gastronomic delights, the BNH3 pack ventured to picturesque Chez Spot at Lawnton Lawns. Believing the hype, Sherbet and your esteemed author hauled in the BNH3 Royal dinnerware and silverware from the car park 2 km from the venue to help prepare for the feast.

Called to attention and ready to brave any exercise to drum up a sensible appetite for the imminent 3 course dinner, Scrubber then sent the pack out onto the cold, hard, local streets.

The circle started with Smooth Ride getting the honour of stating the run number (2160 ..TICK...correct) because she was the last to stop talking after His Excremency the GM called the circle to attention.

Wheelbarra voted the run 10/10 but quietly in an aside whisper admitted that he only did about 2 km of it. Dangles said he would award the walk 6.9/10, but had deducted .1 because he didn't fall over in the dark. Strange fellow. Well, that is what I thought he said.

Wheelbarra, Dangles, Scrubber and the Spots were called forward to explain their absencesblah, blah, blah ...usual drivelling excuses.

Charges

Heart Starter was called forward as she has done 181 runs (congratulations) which is a metric 69.

ET was again in trouble for coveting the GM's chair, but her criminal offending has escalated to trying to steal the GM's car because the said chair was in it.

Heart Starter, Overproof and Sherbet were called in for organising such a great weekend camping trip. The camping trip is now a permanent fixture on the BNH3 calendar and everyone is encouraged to support it next year. Off yer asses ya fat lazy bastads Did I actually just say that?

10 Fingers charged Wheelbarra for wearing a priest's clerical collar. Staggeringly, for once his charge stuck and was not reversed.

Singapore Sling was charged for whinging about ET mixing up his and her Hash shirts after she washed them. We can't wait to see Singas in ET's bra and knickers at some later date.

RA stand in Chunda charges

Chunda charged Dog with dangerous driving whilst in charge of a kennel. This probably was related to Dog attempting to make a U Turn over a large ditch with the Love Cubby attached to the back of his vehicle. Dog said he only had 15 hours of repairs to the rear of the caravan when he got home from the camping trip.

Chunda then charged Singapore Sling, who after Chunda had carefully and lovingly guided him to his high-rise camping accommodation, AND having taken his shoes for him, observed that Singas then sent ET back to the Drinking Den to retrieve his book so he could read in bed

Chunda, having told 10 Fingers on the walk on the Camping weekend that 10 needed a walking stick, charged 10 for finally acknowledging that he not only needed a stick but now had one.

The author wishes to say that for the 100th time the promised Scrubber culinary delight night turned into sausages and bread, though salad and a choice of beef or pork sausages were on offer. Perhaps next time??

The 2019 BNHHH Annual Golf Day was held on Sunday 29 October. There were 9 starters after Floater failed to recover from the English victory over Australia in the rugby union. The author is, at this time, unsure if Floater is actually alive as Flower said he was definitely on his last legs at 8.00 am Sunday morning.

Those who attended seemed to enjoy themselves although Pbo was summonsed home before the bbq. Yeah, right. More sausages and bread. With beer.

* In the results below the author is unable to identify who the Struck Duck is but would hazard a guess that it was a famous politician, hoping to avoid recognition for keeping straight and honest company for a change.

The results are given below:

Player	Group	Score	Ranking	Comment
Daggs	1	45	1	Gun Golfer & Big Stick on putt off from Wbarra
W'barra	1	45	2	Dead-eye-doer
Tail	2	46	3
Hoppoate	3	48	4	Golfing Gorilla
Pram	1	48	4	Average Golfer on putt off from Hoppoate
Abbo	3	51	6
Pbo	3	57	7
Struck Duck	2	61	8	Barry Mann Memorial Trophy - on putt off from Pbo
Flower	2	70	9	Bradman

The 2020 BNHHH Annual Golf Day is likely to be held late in the year, though the author would humbly request that earlier would be cooler.

Next week's run 2161 is Rabbi and Smooth Ride at Sandgate