HASH TRASH

It is a truth universally acknowledged that the hash trash never lies. What you are about to read either has happened, is happening now, or will happen at some time in the future. Or nearly, anyway.

An international contingent of hashers (comprised mainly of convicts, bushrangers and other felons) invaded Arthur Davies Park to celebrate the Australia Day long weekend. In a strange twist of fate there was not a sausage, meat pie or skerrick of tomato sauce to be seen for this group of cosmopolitan corden bleu hashers. In honour of the traditional owners of our land, Australia Day was celebrated with that old Aussie favourite - Thai green chicken curry.

Ryvita missed the opportunity to demonstrate her love of Australian wildlife by wearing her newly acquired possum fur stoal, but has promised to wear it once the weather cools down. She might need to keep it away from Sherbet's very cute canine friend, Ketut, who got one whiff of Ned's shirt and immediately cocked his leg on it.

Ten Fingers didn't tell any jokes, but still managed to keep the bow tie, and in another surprise for the evening, received no reverse charges.

Nokia thought Struck's virgin run was brilliant, apart from being too short, too hilly and having too many stairs. She gave it 1.788/10 in honour of Australia Day. Killer gave a brief walk report as he was still trying to catch his breath from all the stairs and was in danger of passing out. This lack of oxygen made it difficult for him to calculate an original score he'd given out of one hundred, down to a score out of ten, but with some assistance from the mathematicians in the circle he gave it 0.5/10.

Awards/Down Downs

Hash Award	Hasher	For
Hare	Struck F*ck	Setting his virgin run, ably assisted by his culinary sidekick Smooth Ride.
Big Prick	Ned	Ned returned to his bushranger roots and stole some limes on the run. Like all good bushrangers who steal from the rich and give to the poor, he passed them on to M. Stick for safekeeping.
Double Small Prick
Dummy	Tail	Giving Boxy an outdated and inaccurate run sheet.
Imposter Dummy	Flower	For shortcutting. Fortunately the twins (Tail & Flower) were wearing different shirts for a change, as it's usually only their mother who can tell them apart.
Grub Shirt

Other Charges

Chargee/s	For
Ryvita	Returnee - Ryvita was kind enough to remind the circle that she was a returnee as no-one realised that she'd gone. According to Flower, she's been abroad, but she's really nice now...
Fidel	100 runs. At great expense to the BNH3 executive committee, Fidel was presented with f*ck all.
ET	Having trouble staying awake. She tried to blame the tennis, but clearly it was the riveting BNH3 circle.
Shredder	Thinking he has coronavirus, after he knocked off about 2 dozen of them over the weekend.
Smooth Ride and Flower	The only true aussies who would confess to wearing a thong in the circle.
Ned/Nokia/Shredder/B1/Fig Jam	Exhibiting their convict heritage by stealing limes on the run, and then trying to claim it assisted with fighting coronavirus - or adding to coronas - one of the two.
Pithhead	Pretending to be a youngster and joining a local group of 10 years playing cricket. He said it would have been more fun if they hadn't cheated.

Pith-head	Having a pleasant experience on the weekend (Jake was quick to add that he had an alibi). The pleasant experience involved mud in his underwear, so that topic will go no further.
B Minus	B Minus has been a particularly likeable boy at home for the past few weeks of the school holidays (says the GM without a touch of sarcasm). Claimed to be too tired to run, but ran straight to the playground when he got back.
Vampire	GM claimed that he had called out "excuse me, runner coming through" and Vampire deliberately got in his way. This should have been a reverse charge as the prospect of any hasher saying "excuse me" sounds entirely fictitious.

NEXT WEEK'S RUN – Run No. 2177 03.02.2020: Chunder - from Cheesecake's @ 28 Garden Tce, Kallangur. Everyone's fingers are crossed for the post-Australia Day meat pies.
