

Run 2283 Sex Change- Northgate

What can I say about this run? I could say it was awesome and that the hash mash was wonderful, but I wouldn't be so immodest.....or would I?

More notable for the annual appearance of Meatlovers and the reappearance of To and From for two runs in a row than for anything else, the evening took in the bucolic and genteel surrounds of Northgate, Virginia, and East Chermside before wending its way past Virginia railway station and a few kilometres back to Plaisted Place Park. With only 3 runners braving the roughly 7km trail (note that Chunda ended up clocking up 8.1km?!).

As the mozzies grazed gently on un-DDT'd hashers, the barbie was fired up to cook the chicken schnitties and tended lovingly by Smoothride and Mammarystick. Meanwhile the newly minted RA got his schtick and RA gear on and strode confidently among his people.

The assembled 24 or so were regaled with tales of 'Not the Nash hash' and other furphys before settling down to the new paradigm of the 'comedy duo' that was Sex Change and Just Clacker. It was a fun evening and we got to re-experience Cheesey's lime syrup cake, which was even better than on the Saturday.
