HASH TRASH

It is a truth universally acknowledged that the hash trash never lies. What you are about to read either has happened, is happening now, or will happen at some time in the future. Or nearly, anyway.

Run 2295 Calvin and Hobbsy make a gash through hash circle

Rabbi and Raw Liver Sandgate

Should you ask me, whence these stories?
 Whence these legends and traditions,
 With the odors of the lagoon
 With the dew and damp of grassland,
 With the pungent odour rising
 With the quack of Sandgate duckies
 With their frequent ululations,
 And their wild celebrations
 This I tell you is hash in Sandgate.

(Borrowed and bastardised from the Song of Hiawatha by Henry Wordsworth Longfellow)

With great honour comes great responsibility and so it was that the return of Rabbi and Raw Liver coincided with their setting a run from the Sandgate lagoon. Made somewhat more interesting by a visitation from the boys in blue to the adjoining gazebo to ensure that Hobbsy and his mate Calvin hadn't drunk themselves into oblivion. Such is the colour palette that is hash on a cool but pleasant winter's evening 'doon the watter' as we say in Scotland.

A smallish pack quickly split into runners (Chunda and SC) and walkers (about 10 thereof). Fortunately, valuables such as beer and water were being manfully guarded by Smoothride and for the second time in 2 weeks, Pleasure Island. Go figure! Clearly got lost...again, or there was nothing better to do.

The route was the bravo variation, ie. down to the bay and then right to Shorncliffe pier with Raw Liver adding a few loops for the intrepid runners. Up the Shorncliffe Hill and then down the parade, turning right at the filth 'n' chip shop, and a pleasant canter (well hobbling in SC's case) back to the start. A well-marked run, described as 'bloody great' by run reporter Chunda, and one which brought runners and walkers back together. In fact, it was so good that even Wrong Way and Dog didn't get lost this time.

Returnees

Raw Liver

Rabbi and Raw Liver- Uninvited guests- Calvin and Hobbsy (the local neighbourhood nighttime occupants of the lagoon gazebos)

Smooth Ride and Pleasure Island- saving our valuables from uninvited guests
