

Run 2307- Warner- Yackety yak and Clacker

Way out North West to Warner we went Losing hashers who did circumvent
The food it was good, all devoured, as we should Balmy evening for such an event

New location, new route, same old CF with hashers getting lost (Heartstarter, Illegally Blond), hashers not following the correct trail (ned, Chunda) and more letter box walkers that Australia Post has employees (Smoothie, Mammary Stick, Killer, ET, Singapore Sling etc). A pleasant circumnavigation of the local stormwater sedimentation pond and environs, followed by some fun and frivolity in the circle and some top notch hash mash.

Run Report- Chunda- -20/10

Walk Report- Illegally Blonde- 6/10- too few and seldom arrows

RETURNEES

Smooth Ride- ha practicado su Espanol en mexique y ahora ha regresado. La damos la bienvenida

CHARGES

Too many letter box walkers- Flower, mammary Stick, Ryvita, Singapore Sling, ET, Smooth Ride Killer

Heartstarter- sneakily calling Dog using Illegally Blond's phone

Yackety Yak and Clacker- being too tight to purchase more toilet paper to mark the trail

Ned and Killer- Going Commando (just the usual for Ned!)

Ned and Dog- something to do with cheese

Killer- leaving ruts in the GM's paddock such that he lost his phone while driving over them.

Illegally Blond and Heartstarter- failing to master the 7Ps of prior preparation and performance

Ned and Chunda – shortest run in hash history, caused by following the wrong trail
